

COMMUNISTS STALL GENEVA TALKS: DULLES

About Town And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

WILDLIFE IN PANKEYVILLE: Timmo got a call at noon yesterday to proceed to Pankeyville, turn left at Nelson's store and stop at the third house on the right.

It was a very neat house and premises and in the back yard were seven women and a boy with the strange bit of nature.

I was at the home of Miss Jessie Crank, and on a table near the group was the creature that had caused the excitement.

The reptile looked frightening enough, although lifeless. It was about four inches long, eight or ten horns on the head and a fringe of smaller horns like small saw teeth around the body. Generally it was brown, with some white and yellow. There was a white streak down its back and some yellow crescents, also on the back.

It had four legs and its underside side looked like white rubber.

The women had surmised that it might be a horned toad and I agree with them. A picture of one in a dictionary they had was greatly similar to the one on the table but was not identical.

Further research at the office here substantiates the guess. The National Encyclopedia says horned toads are harmless reptiles recognized by their crown of sharp horns, spiny back, short neck and tail, and broad, flattened body. They subsist on spiders, flies, grasshoppers, ants and other small creatures. They exhibit great diversity in structure, there being about 17 species.

"Distributed over much of the southwestern United States and northern Mexico," the encyclopedia says, "they are at home in dry, arid country."

Looks like a dry summer.

Dr. H. B. Harris of Owensboro, Ky., brother of Mrs. H. N. Finney of Harrisburg, has been invited to appear on Herb Shriner's "Two for the Money" television show over the CBS network.

Dr. Harris, the dentist who played the calliope in the big HTHS Golden Anniversary Homecoming parade here last fall, will appear within the next few weeks. Miss Fifi Booth of the Shriner show told Dr. Harris that she had learned about his unusual hobby through newspaper articles. Dr. Harris told her that he would not be able to set a definite date for appearance right now and the staff member said she would call back in a week or so and see if arrangements could be made.

On the show, Shriner features two persons each week who have unusual occupations or hobbies and the two team up in a quiz contest.

Dr. Harris' calliope, which he acquired from a circus and later he installed in a houseboat, now is kept in a specially-built trailer.

Tornadoes and High Winds Hit Midwest Areas

By United Press
Tornadoes and 90 mile an hour winds struck from Oklahoma to Minnesota Monday night, killing at least two persons.

Storms still raged in the nation's midsection early today.

Gusts close to 50 m.p.h. and hail and gusts up to 40 miles per hour whipped Farmington, Mo.

The storm center twisted into Canada, where 70 mile an hour winds raced across southern Manitoba.

The winds hit hardest at central Minnesota, where they reached gale force of 90 m.p.h.

Emil Timmerman, 60, Marengo, Iowa, was drowned in Leech Lake, Minn., when the wind overturned his boat.

Near Detroit Lakes, Minn., Oscar Pearson, 65, perished in a fire while the wind-fanned flames kept rescuers from getting within 100 feet of his log cabin home.

The devastating winds whipped small Minnesota lakes to fury and docks and boats were smashed. At Fargo, Minn., an airplane hangar was whisked away and aircraft inside was smashed.

Numerous farm buildings were demolished, some of them leveled. Meanwhile, a small tornado ripped into Wynnewood, Okla., damaging the Kerr-McGee oil refinery and injuring at least one person.

Symington and McCarthy Trade New Challenges

Flareup at Senate Hearing is Third In As Many Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) traded new challenges for sworn testimony from each other today. But they attached different conditions which created an impasse.

At one point, Symington advised McCarthy to "go to a psychiatrist" after McCarthy called him "Sanctimonious Stu."

Symington demanded that McCarthy go before the Senate Rules Committee, which heard charges about his personal finances in 1952 but never succeeded in getting him to testify.

McCarthy expressed willingness to give sworn testimony on the 1952 charges but insisted that the testimony be heard not by the Rules Committee but by the Senate investigations subcommittee, now in its 29th day of hearings on the roaring Army-McCarthy dispute.

The flareup between Symington and McCarthy—the third in as many days—grew out of monitored telephone conversations made public last Friday. One disclosed that Symington offered Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens advice on his troubles with McCarthy. Since then McCarthy has been demanding sworn testimony from the Missouri senator.

Symington said he was willing to testify, but:

"Nobody in the Senate knows more about how to avoid testifying than McCarthy."

"If I go before this committee, I think he should go before the committee that investigated him."

"That's the deal; that's the arrangement."

McCarthy said he was willing to testify about the 1952 charges, even though he considered them irrelevant, if Symington would testify. But he did not offer to go before the Rules committee.

After he referred to "Sanctimonious Stu"—as he had done Monday—Symington protested that he told Dr. Harris that she had learned about his unusual hobby through newspaper articles. Dr. Harris told her that he would not be able to set a definite date for appearance right now and the staff member said she would call back in a week or so and see if arrangements could be made.

You Will Not Be Abused, Stevens Tells West Point Graduates

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens told West Point graduates in a fighting speech today that they never will be subjected to "unwarranted attack or abuse" while he is running the Army.

The blunt statement was viewed as an indirect slam at Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) who, according to Stevens, abused an Army general during a hearing last winter.

In another reference to his row with the senator, Stevens declared he has no thought of quitting even though his job has proved "so rough that it takes one's endurance."

McCarthy accused Stevens of coddling Communists but in his prepared commencement address the secretary said emphatically that the Army is the nation's "first line of defense against Communism."

Stevens pointedly told the 634 newly commissioned officers: "Your rights as individuals are precious to me, and you shall bear no scars from unwarranted attack or abuse suffered during my tenure of office."

It was an obvious reference to Stevens' claim that McCarthy abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, Camp Kilmer, N. J., commandant.

Stevens said that McCarthy had "a moment of regret that I understand nor once considered turning back."

His closest references to the Army-McCarthy hearings came in telling of the occasion on Formosa when he suddenly was called on to address "about a half million."

They were welcoming Chinese war prisoners from Korea who refused to be repatriated to Red China. After each sentence, an interpreter translated his words into at least a paragraph of Chinese, Stevens said, giving him ample time to plan the next sentence.

"I can assure you there have been moments in Washington during the past month and a half when the extra time might have been helpful," Stevens said.

Reminding that West Pointers have been in the front line of every war in which America has engaged since the Revolution, Stevens said: "The concepts of idealism, competence and service... assume an even greater importance than ever before."

The striking power of today's "tough, rugged" army is constantly increasing, Stevens said, with new advances in weapons and materiel. But the "one indispensable element of victory in war" still is man, he said, and "it is the ground soldier who must seize and hold the terrain necessary for victory."

He assured the new officers he would "do everything within my power to make certain that every one of you is respected and honored during his service."

More than 700 alumni returned to the Military Academy for the colorful ceremonies. Highlights for the returning officers included a corps parade, lunch and memorial services.

Following the graduation ceremony, 79 newly commissioned lieutenants will be married at the three chapels on the military reservation.

Hoegh Wins GOP Nomination in 6-Man Iowa Race

Roosevelt Race Highlights Primary Vote in California

By United Press
Atty. Gen. Leo Hoegh won a six-man race for the Iowa Republican nomination for governor on a "dry" platform as primary elections got underway in California and South Carolina today.

The battle for the Democratic nomination in California's 26th Congressional District held the major interest. There James Roosevelt was fighting for a congressional seat despite his widely publicized marital troubles.

In South Carolina, Lt. Gov. George Bell Timmerman and insurance executive Lester L. Bats fought it out for the Democratic nomination for governor — tantamount to election. A record vote was expected.

Hoegh won a solid victory in Monday's primary with a campaign against illegal liquor sales in the semi-dry state of Iowa. The attorney general not only carried the "dry" rural counties as expected, but scored heavily in Mississippi and Missouri River Valley counties which generally take a more lenient attitude. Hard liquor can be sold only in state package stores in Iowa.

Democrats Unopposed
With 2,104 of the state's 2,487 precincts reporting, Hoegh had 80,187 votes, or 38.37 of those reporting. It had been feared that a state law requiring a 35 per cent vote total for outright victory would leave the choice up to the state GOP convention July 23.

Trailing were former Lieutenant Governor William H. Nicholas with 39,107 votes, state Rep. Ernest Palmer with 30,210, former Des Moines mayor A. B. Chambers with 28,210, Iowa House Speaker W. S. Lynes with 23,793, and attorney Benjamin Ellsworth with 7,495.

County Atty. Clyde Herring of Des Moines was unopposed for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Democratic Sen. Guy M. Gillette won unopposed nomination, as did his GOP opponent, Rep. Thomas E. Martin. Six incumbent Republican congressmen were unopposed, and Rep. H. R. Gross won re-nomination.

Expect Roosevelt Victory
The California races featured a number of colorful battles, headed by Roosevelt's congressional bid. They were also complicated by the state's cross-filing system, allowing candidates to be nominated on both tickets or on either.

Charges by Roosevelt's estranged wife that he was unfaithful with a number of women assumed major proportions as a campaign issue and caused the Democratic National committee to refuse him any support.

However, the former President's eldest son was expected to walk away with the Democratic nomination and possibly gain automatic election by winning the GOP race, too.

Democratic Rep. Robert L. Condon, who was barred from atomic tests on security grounds, faced a stiffer fight in the 6th District. His main opponent, John F. Baldwin, almost beat him two years ago and the Democratic committee has dealt Condon the same refusal of support it gave Roosevelt.

Plan Operation Of Lincoln School For Another Year
The Harrisburg City school board Monday evening voted to continue operation of the Lincoln school for another year, following filing of a petition by patrons of the school and parents who desire that their children continue attendance at the school.

According to present indications, there will be 36 children in the age and grade range of the school for the 1954-55 school term. A total of 107 parents and patrons signed the petition requesting the school operation to continue.

Per capita cost of operating the school is higher than that of larger schools in the district, but less than some of the smaller schools.

For the past two years Lincoln school has been operated as a "permissive" school, without boundary, open to all who choose to attend the school. Miss Alta Johnson is principal of the school.

House Committee Votes to Extend Rigid High Price Supports for Basic Crops

By United Press
The House Agriculture committee voted 21-8 today to keep high farm price supports in effect through 1955.

The overwhelming vote for a one-year extension of the present farm program was a rebuff for President Eisenhower. He has urged Congress to let the present program expire on schedule at the end of this year, with flexible and generally lower supports coming into operation next year.

The Agriculture committee's sentiment against flexible supports was so strong that it came within one vote of adopting a motion to make rigid high price supports permanent. The vote was 15-14 against the motion.

Other congressional news:
Trade: Chairman Daniel Reed (R-N.Y.) of the House Ways and Means committee introduced "compromise" legislation to extend the tariff-cutting reciprocal trade agreements law for one year. It is now due to expire Saturday. President Eisenhower had asked for a three-year extension but has acknowledged he can't get it. Some protectionist-minded Republicans wanted to scrap the law altogether.

Immunity: Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. urged approval of legislation giving him power to compel balking witnesses to testify in court cases or before congressional committees, by promising them immunity from prosecution. He told a House Judiciary subcommittee the bill offers a way around the problem created when key witnesses refuse to testify on the "Fifth Amendment" constitutional ground that their testimony might incriminate them.

Peace and Prosperity: Foreign aid chief Harold E. Stassen told the Senate that the foreign aid program "is the route that will lead towards the best prospects of peace and prosperity for ourselves and others."

Money: President Eisenhower asked Congress for a supplemental appropriation of $165,737,000, for the 1955 fiscal year. Most of it would go to subsidize new merchant ship construction, federal aid to airports, and for hiring additional internal revenue tax sleuths.

Farm: The farm plan approved by the House Agriculture committee called for continuing price supports on basic crops—wheat, cotton, corn, peanuts and rice—at 90 per cent of parity.

The administration wants to shift to a flexible system of farm price props that could be adjusted by the secretary of agriculture between 75 and 90 per cent of parity depending on supplies. Most members of the congressional farm bloc are hostile to the plan.

The price support provision is only one feature of the tentative bill the committee is voting on. An informed source said another would force an immediate boost of about 13 per cent in the average price the government guarantees dairy farmers for their milk. That would mean higher prices to consumers for butter and cheese.

Dairy state congressmen are still protesting Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson's cut in dairy price supports from 90 to 75 per cent of "fair price" parity last April 1. The bill would boost the support level to 85 per cent.

Saline County's and Harrisburg's lagging Civil Defense programs are scheduled for organization here this week.

Ray Altmeir, county Civilian Defense director, today called a meeting to be held at 7 p. m. Thursday in the council room of the Harrisburg city hall for purpose of organizing the two groups.

He invited all civic groups in the county to send representatives to this meeting.

Saline county, he emphasized, is one of the very few counties in the state which does not have a Civilian Defense organization. He has pointed out in the past that in case of attack, this area would be an evacuation center, to which people would be dispatched from bombed-out regions.

Also, he reminded, big-scale Civilian Defense operations are scheduled for June 14-15 throughout the country and he desires a perfected organization at that time. The Ground Observer Corps of Civilian Defense, which is functioning, will be alerted during this time.

New Storm Warning Duty
Rees Turner is supervisor of the Ground Observer Corps in Harrisburg and he is getting his department ready for the two days.

Turner also announced that the Ground Observer Corps has been given a new duty—giving storm warnings. All storms are to be reported by the local authorized observer posts to the Springfield filter center. These reports will be turned over to the U. S. Weather Bureau office Springfield for analysis. If necessary, the weather bureau will notify the sheriffs of counties in the path of the storm by state police radio. The officer will notify local radio and television stations, which will announce the storm warning at proper intervals. Schools also will be notified if deemed necessary.

The U. S. Weather Bureau has prepared a pamphlet showing pictures of the different storms and the nature of them.

3 Local Youths To Receive Degrees At Washington U.

Three Harrisburg young men will be among 1,400 students who will receive degrees tomorrow at the 93rd annual Commencement at Washington University, St. Louis.

They are Jack Thomas Lasersohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Lasersohn; Bill Byrom Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy E. Hart; and Larry Valgene Gibbons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gibbons.

The parents of all three will be present to see their sons receive their diplomas and hear the Commencement address by Charles Malik, ambassador from Lebanon to the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Lasersohn were in St. Louis for the baccalaureate service held Sunday and also saw the three local youths receive their commissions as second lieutenants in the Army Reserve.

Young Gibbons plans to enter dental college at St. Louis university, and Lasersohn will enter medical college at the University of Illinois, Chicago. Hart, who is receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree, will join the staff of Hart's department store awaiting his call to military service.

Says Actions Give Lie to Peace Proposals

Denies Plan for Asking Authority For Intervention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles charged today that the Communists are dragging their feet at the Geneva Far East conference while intensifying military operations in Indochina.

Dulles told a news conference that this gives the lie to professed Communist desires for peace.

He declined to say how much longer the Western powers should sit at Geneva and let the Communists prolong negotiations. He said the primary responsibility for the decision is up to France and Viet Nam, the nations doing the fighting, and that he didn't want to be in a position of trying to establish their policy.

Eden Warns Communists
In London, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden warned the Communists that Britain is fully aware of the next step it must take if the Geneva conference fails to halt the Indochina War. Eden's remarks were viewed as a clear hint that Britain would have no choice but to join the Southeast Asia alliance against further Communist aggression.

Dulles said the United States still has no intention of dealing with the Indochina situation alone unless the whole nature of aggression there should change. By that, he said, he means if Communist China should engage in open armed aggression then the entire situation might change.

No Plans At Present
Dulles said the administration now has no plan for going to Congress and asking authority to intervene in Indochina.

Key congressional sources said earlier that President Eisenhower may decide in a matter of days whether to ask Congress for authority to intervene.

A ranking Republican senator said the fateful decision appears imminent. He said the Communist drive into the Red River delta area means the administration has far less time than it expected to weigh the heavy issues involved.

A high Democratic source in the House also said the administration seems to be getting ready to ask Congress for the necessary authority to intervene. He said he expects Mr. Eisenhower to submit the request within 30 days.

Many congressmen feel that unless the administration acts within that period Indochina may be lost to Communist rebels. They note that the Communists are driving steadily toward Hanoi at a time when the Western Powers had been counting on seasonal monsoons to halt Red activity.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said in a radio interview Monday night that he believes a "vast majority" of Congress favors American air strikes in Indochina. He said, however, that he is not sure the use of troops would be approved.

Raymond Williams Is Arraigned On Murder Charge

Raymond Williams, 44-year-old farmer living north of Eldorado, late yesterday was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Vern Joyner on a complaint prepared by State's Attorney Glen O. Jones, which charged him with murder.

Williams has confessed he fired a 22 calibre slug into Elbert Sherfield, 20, who died shortly after the incident, which occurred in the yard of the Williams farm home.

Williams waived preliminary hearing to await the action of the grand jury and his bond was set at $5,000. He was returned to jail because bond was not made.

He has secured Atty. W. W. Dameron and Atty. Joe M. Butler to defend him.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons announced that the inquest into Sherfield's death will be held at 6:30 p. m. tonight at the court house.

New Laws Are Needed to Oust Reds in Defense Plants

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The seven suffering senators, dog-tired and punch drunk from their weeks of Army-McCarthy hearings, got themselves completely balled up on the question of the 130 Communists supposed to be working in U. S. defense plants.

This was Senator McCarthy's day and dish. He all but won his case when Counsel Roy Cohn got the committee off the Private Schine affair and led them down the blind alley of the defense plant investigation.

Incidentally, this excursion exposed the abysmal ignorance of all the senators on what the Department of Defense war plant security program is, or how it works.

This industrial security program has been in operation since before World War II.

IN ACTIVE CHARGE of the program today is Robert Applegate, an ex-Hoosier with some 20 years experience as an industrialist with Graybar Electric, Wilshire Oil and other companies in California. He came to Washington in 1946 and has headed up plant security in its present concept since 1949.

The Department of Defense security headquarters is small. It has no investigative staff of its own. Instead, it works to coordinate the security programs of the Department of the Army, Navy and Air Force. They work through the service intelligence agencies, FBI reports on Communists in defense plants are turned over to them.

Under present law, the U. S. government has no right to tell any employer to discharge any employee working on an unclassified-nonsecret—defense contract. Similarly, the FBI has no authority to tell any employer whom to fire.

The FBI can't even give to private employers the names or any information about any workmen who may be Communists or subversives. FBI reports go only to other government agencies.

ON CLASSIFIED contracts — which make up most of the defense production—the government does have the right to investigate the security of every individual who has access to secret material. But if employees are found who are security risks, the government is limited to telling the employer that these potentially subversive characters can not work on defense contracts.

It is then up to the employer whether he fires this individual or merely transfers him to other work which is not classified.

To handle these security risk cases, Department of Defense has set up three Industrial Personnel

Security Boards. They operate out of San Francisco, Chicago and New York. Each three-man board has one representative of Army, Navy and Air Force. They are responsible to the three service secretaries, collectively.

These security boards have hearing and screening divisions. Any plant worker on whom bad information is received can appeal the charge that he is a security risk and get his side of the story told.
Further action is then up to the employer, except that the government can say that security risks cannot work on classified contracts.

General Electric has taken the lead in announcing a policy that it will discharge any employee who takes refuge behind the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions on Communist affiliations. Senator McCarthy was right in saying that under existing law, this is the only way in which such cases can be exposed and fired outright.

WHAT DID NOT come out in the Army-McCarthy hearings, however, is there is now before Congress a bill which would correct this situation. This legislation was prepared by the Departments of Justice, Labor and Defense.

It was then approved by National Security Council and President Eisenhower personally. It was introduced by Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan on May 10.

This bill, called the "Defense Facilities Protection Act of 1954," has two main objectives. It would give the government power to remove subversives from all defense plants to prevent possible espionage or sabotage.

And it would deny union bargaining rights to any labor organizations which are Communist dominated.

This Ferguson bill and three other companion measures of the senator's own drafting are now before the Senate Judiciary Committee. It is also considering similar measures proposed by Senators John M. Butler (R., Md.) and Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.).

As an effective means of curbing subversives in defense plants, fast action on any of these bills or a combination of them would obviously do far more permanent good than an endless series of noisy hearings by the McCarthy committee. Passage of this much-needed legislation would not, however, make as many headlines.

Mock Kidnaping Traps Attorney In Death Plot

LAKE WALES, Fla. (UP)—An attractive, wealthy widow who "disappeared" in a mock kidnaping to become an undercover agent today helped trap a prominent attorney charged with conspiring to kill her and an elderly, retired millionaire, Sheriff Pat Gordon reported.

Gordon said Mrs. Byrd Roach, a gray-haired, 51-year-old woman with bright blue eyes had served as a decoy in the arrest of Emmet Donnelly, 60, and his suspected accomplice, Willard Durden on charges of conspiring to kill Mrs. Roach and Kingsley H. Gerlach, 81.

"It was plenty dangerous," Gordon said. "I tell you she was brave."

Disclose Plot of Deaths

Gordon said a raid on Donnelly's office following his arrest early today disclosed documentary evidence of a plot to harvest thousands of dollars from the deaths of Mrs. Roach and Gerlach, retired millionaire calendar maker formerly of Joliet, Ill.

The Polk County sheriff said Mrs.
Roach had been "marked for death"
for five days before she agreed Sunday to "disappear" in a mock kidnaping deputies staged so secretly that it baffled city police.

Gordon said both Mrs. Roach and Gerlach had lived for months under a threat of death until the arrest of Durden late Monday night and of Donnelly early today. The

Two Killed, Three Hurt When Auto Hits Gasoline Truck

FULTON, Ill. (AP)—Two persons were killed and three injured Monday night in a collision between an automobile and a gasoline truck which set 3,000 gallons of fuel afire.
Firemen played hoses on the spectacular blaze for three hours to prevent the flames from spreading to the truck's second 3,000-gallon compartment.

The dead were Bernard Jensen, 25, and Jean Putman, 15, both of Clinton, Iowa.

Jerry Ramsay, 17, Clinton, and Harold Housenga, 17, Fulton, were injured seriously.

Ruth Putman, 17, sister of the dead girl, was to be released from a hospital at Clinton today.

Authorities said the girls were members of a Clinton baseball team returning from a night game at Lanark, Ill. Their car, apparently driven by Jensen, struck a bridge and careened into the truck about four miles north of here.

The truck driver, Howard Eg-ner, McFarland, Wis., escaped injury when he leaped from the cab as his cargo went up in flames.

Ill. 80 was blocked for more than three hours by the flames.

Wealthy Illinois Man Goes on Trial On Charge of Fraud in Nursery Business

SPRINGFIELD — Wealthy James W. Owens goes on trial today on charges he defrauded hundreds of customers by making false claims for plants sold by his nursery at Bloomington-Normal, Ill.

Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie was to hear the mail fraud case in U. S. District Court. Owens had waived a jury trial.

A lengthy trial was expected, perhaps lasting several weeks.

U. S. Dist. Atty. John B. Stoddard Jr., said the prosecution alone was planning to call up to 60 witnesses, from several states.

The government described Owens as a one-time traveling landscape gardener, who began operating a mail order business in shrubs, trees and flowers 15 years ago and now is a millionaire.

Owens was indicted last July 3 by a grand jury which named 134 customers, some from as far away as the East Coast, as having been defrauded by false claims or broken promises made by Owens.

The indictment charged Owens represented fruit trees he sold as "dwarf" varieties which would bear enough fruit in the first year to "give the purchaser a profit," when he knew they actually were only "seedlings" which took two to five years to bear fruit.

Another charge was that Owens advertised he would make "cheerful refunds" but instead, when a customer asked for his money back, he tried to "wear out" the customer by offering alternate purchases.

The indictment said Owens actually sold "inferior" merchandise "at prices far in excess of the true market value."

In a pre-trial hearing last Oct. 9, Briggie ruled that one of Owens' lawyers had been "highly improper" in interviewing witnesses who might be called by the government.

Briggie said Atty. Edward Brodkey, Chicago, "abused" his privileges in talking with Mrs. Anna Dimick, Baltimore, Md., and George W. Hendricks, Rock Island, Ill.

Brodkey allegedly asked Mrs. Dimick if she "wanted to send a man to jail for $2" and told Hendricks it would be "rough on him" to testify. Both were described as former Owens customers.

Briggie said Brodkey also told various prospective witnesses that Owens operated a "large, respected firm" and was "highly regarded in Bloomington."

Probe McCarthy Tax Returns

DENVER (AP)—U. S. Commis- sioner of Internal Revenue T. Coleman Andrews, an Eisenhower-appointed Virginia Democrat, says that if Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has willfully evaded taxes "We will go after him just like anyone else."

Andrews said Monday that members of his Washington staff have been investigating McCarthy's income tax returns for the past few months "as a routine matter" and will be finished "within the next 60 days."

He told about 800 attorneys and accountants he has received about two dozen queries from the "conclusion-jumping public" regarding the Wisconsin Red-hunter's "weird financial transactions," as a Senate committee termed them.

Andrews gave no hint of what his investigators had found so far, if anything, to incriminate McCarthy.

The others convicted were Wilbur Don Trapp, former St. Louis county tavern owner; Melvin E. Von Behren, operator of a Wellston salvage yard where the stolen whiskey was stored; Joseph Cammarata, a pipe-fitter; and John Anselmo, who has been sentenced to a five-year term in the state penitentiary for another robbery since the hijacking in November, 1952.

Union County Voters Approve Hospital District

ANNA, Ill. (AP)—Union County voters have approved setting up a county hospital district to operate the Anna City Hospital at county expense.

Residents voted Monday 2,125-1,421 in favor of the hospital district and a new tax of 75 cents per $1,000 valuation which will provide operating expenses.

The city of Anna still will be required to pay off bonded debt of $240,000 on the hospital.

Bidault Warns Against Breaking Off Peace Talks

GENEVA (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said today that "appreciable results" have been achieved at the Geneva conference on Indochina.

He warned that the nine nations participating in the peace talks must not give up their search for a final settlement, ending the 7-year-old war.

Bidault cautioned against any premature break-off of the negotiations in a conciliatory speech opening the 16th session of the Indochina conference.

An Open Session

Today's session was the first in almost a month that was not held in secret.

In spite of the "appreciable results" won, Bidault told the Communist bloc it cannot expect the West to agree to the Communist formula for policing a cease-fire.

"Without effective control," the French foreign minister said, "I cannot see any way out. Without the possibility of making quick decisions, it would be disorder with all the risks of the unforeseen."

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden returned from London with a mandate from Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the British Cabinet to continue the efforts to negotiate for a while longer.

Eden-Chou Dinner Date

Eden promptly scheduled a dinner with Communist China's premier and foreign minister, Chou En-Lai. Both men will be accompanied by their top advisers.

The 16 nations which fought the Reds in Korea agreed earlier today that the latest "new plan" put forward by Russia and Red China for Korea offered no encouragement and must be rejected. They also agreed that the time has come to end the fruitless Korean negotiations.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov sought public endorsement of his plans for ending the Indochina War.

Molotov requested that the meeting be a semi-public session so that Communist orators could hand out texts of their speeches at a time when the French National Assembly starts another vital debate on Indochina.

Reliable sources said Molotov's newest stratagem is a plan to persuade the West to hand over major Indochina issues to rival field commanders in Indochina for an on-the-spot settlement.

Five Convicted of Hijacking Liquor

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Federal Court jury Monday night convicted five men accused of hijacking a $50,000 load of whiskey in interstate shipment.

Federal Judge Roy W. Harper deferred sentencing until June 18.

One of the defendants was Paul Huiahian, business agent of the AFL Laborers Union, who has been held without bond pending an appeal of a year sentence imposed on him recently for labor racketeering.

The others convicted were Wilbur Don Trapp, former St. Louis county tavern owner; Melvin E. Von Behren, operator of a Wellston salvage yard where the stolen whiskey was stored; Joseph Cammarata, a pipe-fitter; and John Anselmo, who has been sentenced to a five-year term in the state penitentiary for another robbery since the hijacking in November, 1952.

Telephone Lineman Is Electrocuted, Five Others Burned

CHRISTOPHER, Ill. (AP)—Five telephone linemen burned in an accident which resulted in electrocution of a fellow worker Monday were released from Miners hospital here today.

Carl Eisenhower, Murphysboro, was electrocuted.

The six men were stretching a new telephone line for the General Telephone Co. of Illinois when it came in contact with a power line.

Released after treatment mainly for burns on hands and feet were Vernon Sanders, Johnston City; William Fletcher, Pulaski; Donald Hardin, Pinckneyville and Richard Lane and Claude R. Beasley, both of Murphysboro.

Fletcher required artificial respiration and was placed in an oxygen tent at the hospital Monday.

The accident occurred about one half mile north of here.

ings apparently headed for an early climax.

Other highlights of today's session:

1. Cohn agreed that the U. S. Armed Services "are wonderful" and that the U. S. government is in the hands of "patriots and not of traitors." Under questioning, he also agreed that the Army is ready to fight Communists both at home and abroad.

Embarrassing Report

2. Cohn swore again that Army Counselor John G. Adams threatened to circulate an "embarrassing" report about Cohn's activities in behalf of Pvt. G. David Schine if McCarthy did not call off investigation of alleged Army subversion.

3. The investigating subcommittee discussed but did not act on proposals to wind up the hearings. Target dates included Friday or early next week. Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S. D.) called for all parties to submit a list of prospective witnesses by Thursday noon. He said "we're near the point where night sessions will be necessary if we can't agree on some target date for quitting, limiting the number of witnesses, or both." McCarthy said he would "settle for almost anything if they agree on a target date."

4. The Republican majority blocked a Democratic proposal to order a subpoena for Clark Clifford, one-time legal aide of former President Truman, for testimony now.

But there was still a strong likelihood that Clifford will appear as a witness in the hearings.

On a straight party-line vote of 4-3, the Senate investigating subcommittee rejected a motion by Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) to compel Clifford to testify—as has been publicly demanded by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) Monday.

Clifford Now Retired

The name of Clifford, a former President Truman's counsel until he retired to private practice in 1950, has figured prominently in the hearings since last Friday. A monitored telephone call revealed that Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) had recommended Clifford as a lawyer for Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens in the Army's dispute with McCarthy.

McCarthy said public opinion should force Symington to testify under oath about his role in the dispute.

Campanella Sparks Dodgers To 7-5 Victory Over Cards; 10th Straight for Brooklyn

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

Last year at this time it was the Yankees who stormed through the West on an all-victorious trip and now it is the Dodgers who are sweeping aside all opposition in their "Roy Campanella winning streak."

It is no coincidence that Brooklyn's 10-game victory string started almost simultaneously with Campy's return to the lineup after being out 3 1/2 weeks with a broken bone in his hand.

The Dodgers have a long way to go before equaling the Yankee 18-game victory streak of 1953 but with Monday night in a 12th inning rally that produced a 7-5 victory over the Cardinals and jolted catcher Del Rice so badly that he was carried off the field on a stretcher. After the Cardinals came from behind to tie the score at 5-5 with three runs off Preacher Roe in the ninth as Red Schoendienst singled, Stan Musial walked, Ray Jablonski doubled and Bill Sarni whacked a two-run triple, the teams battled scorelessly until the 12th.

Joe Presko, who had retired eight Dodgers in a row, walked Gil Hodges and Campanella, and Carl Furillo delivered what was to be the winning run with a single. After Billy Cox also walked to load the bases, Alpha Brazil replaced Presko and while dawdling before delivering his pitch, the roly poly Campy legged it for home, crashing into Rice, who is a pretty tough customer himself. Rice wound up with a spike wound and severe contusions in his right leg.

Campy, Snider Homer

Earlier, Campanella and Duke Snider hit Brooklyn homers. Stan Musial again regained the major league lead with his 19th homer for St. Louis while rookie Wally Moon connected for his sixth.

The Giants stayed two games behind the Dodgers by defeating the Braves at Milwaukee, 4-2. Sal Maglie gained his sixth victory, striking out six and yielding only six hits until he tired and had to have relief help from Marv Grissom for the two final innings. The Giants went in front, 3-0, in the first two innings, scoring a run in the first on singles by Whitey Lockman, Hank Thompson and Monte Irvin and two more in the second on Wes Westrum's single and Lockman's homer. Ed Mathews hit a Milwaukee homer, his 11th.

Red Sox Win Two

In the only other activity in a limited slate of major league games, the Red Sox made it four victories out of five in their long series with the Tigers by defeating them in a double-header, 3-2 and 5-4 in 12 innings.

In the opener rookie Frank Sullivan got by for his third victory even though he gave up 11 hits. Boston scored all of its runs in the first two innings, Sammy White driving in two with singles. In the nightcap, Agganis opened the 12th with a single, moved up on White's sacrifice and scored on Milt Bolling's single. Boston made 16 hits including a homer and two singles by Don Lenhardt and three singles by Ted Lepcio. Rookie Karl Olson had a triple, double, and single. Fred Hatfield hit a homer for Detroit. Rookie Tom Brewer struck out 10 and scattered nine hits for his second win.

Monday's star: Roy Campanella who hit a homer and stole home in the 12th in a 7-5 victory over the Cardinals that extended the Dodger winning streak to 10 games.

Metropolis May Enter Kitty League

MAYFIELD, Ky. (UP)—Metropolis, Ill., seemed to have a good chance today of becoming the eighth city in the Class D. Kitty League.

League directors said they were told the Pittsburgh Pirates would send players and, if necessary, operate a team to take care of the franchise abandoned recently by Jackson, Tenn.

League President Shelby Peace said two Metropolis representatives would contact Branch Rickey Jr., manager of the Pirate farm system. League officials meanwhile voted down a suggestion that they vote one of the present teams out of the league to make a six-team league.

BROOKLYN (Eastern Parkway): Joey Maxim, 177, Cleveland, O., outpointed Floyd Patterson, 168, Brooklyn, (10).

Partain, Maynard in Charge of Kiwanis Baseball School

The Kiwanis baseball school is under new leadership, it has been announced.

Lyman Partain, veteran local player, has assumed charge of the school and will be assisted by Gilbert Maynard. Charles Nelson, who organized the school, will continue to help as much as time will permit.

The school will continue to operate each Saturday and beginning Wednesday, June 16, there will be school sessions both Wednesday and Saturday mornings. The Wednesday sessions will not begin until Bible schools are completed.

Last Saturday approximately 60 boys showed up for instructions in the art of batting. Phases of play covered so far include: batting, pitching positions, first base, catching and a little on fielding, the positions of shortstop, second and third bases. These infield positions will be covered more completely at a later date.

Saturday, June 12, will be devoted to outfielding and base running.

All boys participating in the Kiwanis league baseball program are welcome to attend the baseball school.

Yellow light attracts insects less than white light.

Jackie Robinson is Absolved of Blame In Bat Throwing

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP)—Jackie Robinson, a man handy enough with the bat to be challenging for the league lead, today appeared to have escaped serious trouble for hitting a couple of spectators with one.

The Brooklyn left fielder was fined $50 by National League President Warren Giles for "reviving an argument" with Umpire Lee Ballanfant. But he was absolved of blame for throwing his bat when he was ejected from the game.

The incident occurred at Milwaukee on June 2.

Robinson and his teammates objected strenuously when Ballanfant awarded a base on balls to Johnny Logan. They claimed the count at the time was actually 3 and 2.

Robinson was the first batter up when Brooklyn came in for the fifth inning. He told Ballanfant that his decision on Logan was "the worst I've ever seen."

After a few more remarks, Ballanfant ordered Robinson off the field. As he strode towards the dugout, he flipped his bat in the direction of the top of the dugout and struck Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wolinsky and a park usher.

Eckert Leaves Centralia to Coach At Davenport, Iowa

DAVENPORT, Ia. (UP)—Paul Laverne Eckert, 26, of Centralia, Ill., who has never been a head coach, is new basketball coach at Davenport High School, it was announced Monday.

Eckert succeeds Paul Moon, who resigned after 26 years with a record of seven state titles, three of them in a row.

The new Davenport mentor has been freshman and sophomore basketball and football coach at Centralia High School the last 3 1/2 years.

Wirth's, Karnes, Coca-Colas Win Kiwanis Openers

Opening day was a hitters' day in the Kiwanis baseball leagues with one exception as Harry Wirth's team romped over the Sahara Coals, 20-5 and Karnes Hardware beat Pickford's Flowers, 13-3. The other game was the exception as the Coca Colas beat the Texaco Chiefs, 5-4.

Jerry Dowdy turned in the pitching performance of the day as he whiffed 13 batters and allowed the Cokes only three hits, but poor fielding and six errors helped the Cokes gain three unearned runs. Gary Crews was credited with the victory as he pitched a steady five hitter. Holden and Furlong led the winners with two bingles apiece. Ziegler collected two hits and Parks the other in the victory for the Cokes.

Stan Wilson allowed only five hits and his teammates collected 13 as Harry Wirth's team romped over the Sahara Coals, 20-5. Hegglin collected three hits to gain hitting honors for the winners. Art Holland slapped two singles for the losers.

Zane Hefner allowed Pickford's only four hits and three runs as his Karnes Hardware teammates smacked only seven hits but took advantage of four errors and five walks to tally 13 markers in a 13-3 victory. Aldridge and Denny led the attack with two hits apiece and Aldridge hit a homer for the winners. Pickford collected two hits including a triple in a losing cause.

For several minutes Elaine sat in the kitchen chair thinking. What was she to do? She could not stay in this house, she could not force Tom to leave the farm he loved.

Slowly she rose and walked out of the kitchen. Her eyes focused on a moment on the telephone. She had an impulsive urge to call Marion Erickson, her friend at the high school, and ask her to come up after her. It was Saturday and Marion would be free.

Then Elaine realized that she could not impose her problems on Marion.

She would call Jerry. He would find out for her when the next train for Madison was due. Jerry might even drive her to the railway station. The thought was formed and compelling before she could stop it. What would Tom think? Let Tom think what he would, for if Elaine left under the shadow of his disapproval, that shadow would obscure her memory sooner. Tom could marry Astrid then, and be happy.

Defense Planners Believe Russia A-Attack Would Wipe Out 92 Principal Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Defense planners believe that if Russia launched an atomic attack on the United States it would attempt to "substantially" wipe out 92 principal cities.

The Civil Defense Administration, in its "planned assumptions" for the year, also said any atomic attack might be backed up by biological, chemical and psychological warfare.

The Civil Defense agency indicated it does not believe Russia now has a large stockpile of hydrogen bombs. But it said super bombs soon will "be available to them in greater numbers."

It said Russia can make and deliver hydrogen bombs with explosive power equal to "millions of tons" of TNT. On the brighter side, it said chances of this country being caught completely by surprise by a Red air attack are "constantly diminishing."

The "planning assumptions," which are designed to aid state and local officials in drafting Civil Defense plans, are based on Russia's "officially-known or estimated capabilities for attack on the United States." Much of the information obviously comes from intelligence sources.

The agency underscored that its "assumptions do not predict" the Soviet Union will attack the United States with atomic and hydrogen bombs. It said the blueprint merely outlined Russian "capabilities" if such an attack were launched.

CDA estimated that Russia has the ability to "strike any target within the United States" with long-range bombers. It warned, however, that atomic weapons "might be delivered by other means than aircraft, such as submarines or smuggled into the country."

If Russia should decide to strike directly at the United States, the agency said "it is assumed that the initial attack would be the nature of an attempted knockout blow" aimed at the centers of industry, population and government.

It is assumed, CDA said, that the initial air attack "would include sufficient nuclear weapons to hit all of our 70 critical target areas, and that a large proportion of all weapons carried would be delivered on the targets."

There are 92 principal cities in the 70 "critical target areas" listed in 1953, and CDA assumed that each of the cities "could be struck by at least one bomb of appropriate size."

Pointing to the vast destructive powers of new atom and hydrogen bombs, the agency estimated that "any city attacked, with very few exceptions, would be substantially destroyed." By "substantially destroyed," it said it meant that from one-half to all of a city would be covered by the areas of complete, heavy and moderate destruction.

Rep. Bentley Faces Assaults

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley today calmly confronted the four Puerto Rican fanatics who shot him and four other congressmen on the House floor March 1 and described the attack that almost snuffed out his life.

The Michigan Republican, most seriously wounded of the lawmakers, testified at the federal court trial of the Puerto Ricans on 10 counts of assault.

As Bentley described the murderous attack, he glanced toward the defense table and saw his assailants face-to-face actually for the first time.

S. Korean Army is Fourth Largest of Free World: Stevens

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens said today that the South Korean army now is the fourth largest in the Free World.

He did not mention the first three but presumably he placed the Republic of Korea forces, just behind the armies of the United States, France and Britain.

He referred in a West Point com-

What! 15 million ice cream cones a day?

Would you believe it? Across this country 15 million ice cream cones are sold every single day! That's a lot of ice cream... and a lot of cones. The delicate crispness that you enjoy in a perfectly baked cone is no accident. It takes perfect timing and clean heat that can be exactly controlled. That's why Eastern Baking and other ice cream cone makers use gas. You'll find natural gas the ideal fuel for all your cooking, too!

Mrs. Dahlstrom sat at the kitchen table. But she was not alone. Beside her was another woman and steaming cups of coffee were on the table before them. The coffee had just been poured. Both women had come into the house through the back door while Elaine was playing the piano, no doubt.

Elaine paused in the doorway, as she recognized the second woman. It was Mrs. Nelson, Astrid's mother.

Mrs. Nelson, without noticing Elaine, was turning her head, glancing at a shelf on the opposite wall of the kitchen.

"Signe, my dear, whatever happened to that beautiful Japanese plate you had?" she demanded in a high, rasping voice. "I hope you didn't break it. A beautiful thing—a present from Thorvald, wasn't it?"

City School Attendance Average High

Average attendance in the Harrisburg City schools was higher than usual for the term just ended, Russell Malan, school superintendent reported to the school board Monday evening.

Mr. Malan stated the high attendance was due to increased recognition on the part of parents and students of the benefits of regular attendance, the encouragement of teachers toward regular attendance and the school health program, which was effective in reducing epidemic illness during the year.

The average attendance was 96.41 per cent. The lowest was in January when the average was 93.04 per cent and the highest was in May with 97.48 per cent. It was announced at the eighth grade commencement that the Junior High school had one day of perfect attendance, which is unusual, as there ordinarily would be one or more instances of illness with more than 300 enrolled.

Enrollment in the City schools for the year started at 1599 and ended with 1560. Part of the drop was due to removals to the new housing area in Dorrisville, and was reflected in increased enrollment in the Dorrisville school.

Large Enrollments Shown in Vacation Bible Schools

Vacation Bible school, which began in a majority of churches yesterday in Saline county, are now in their second day and children are still invited to attend.

In eight of Harrisburg's larger churches a total of 793 students have enrolled which means that probably thousands of children are attending throughout Saline county.

The First Baptist church topped the list with an enrollment of 174, 128 of these are pupils and 46 helpers; the McKinley Avenue Baptist was next with an enrollment of 149. The Dorrisville Baptist had 50 pupils and 17 helpers, and the Methodist church enrolled 83 students and 21 leaders.

The Dorrisville Social Brethren enrolled 85 students; the First Christian church, 64; the Presbyterian, 49, and St. Mary's Catholic church, 78.

Pleads Innocent Before County Judge
